

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, August 5.—The professional element in the stock market speculation remained distrustful of the high level of prices to-day and worked for reaction, and it did, yesterday. The operations were tentative at first and so cautious as to have little effect on prices until a holder attack in the last half hour. There was evidence of substantial realizing at some points, and this had to be reckoned with as well as the short selling of the bears. An increase in the supply of stocks from these causes was so nearly overbalanced by the demand that small inroads on prices were made.

Positive strength in other quarters served also as a sustaining force. The United States Steel, in fact, rose momentarily through its record high record, and Reading passed the 164 mark, which represented its previous maximum and which was made in January of 1906. The sentimental effect of these two episodes was considerable.

The winding up of the tariff struggle and the conviction that the re-opening of the market would see the new law enacted was of some influence in late active realizing. The movements in some particular stocks were in fact the result of the individual treacher to provisions in the individual schedules of the new bill. The pre-disposition is to wait the response of the country to the passage of the tariff bill before proceeding to much greater lengths in the stock market.

The heavy pig iron production for the month of July pointed to such rapid recuperation in that industry that an impetus was given again to the steel industrialists. The fact that the United States Steel Corporation's output of iron for that month exceeded that of any previous month was a factor of great influence in the price of great Northern Ore certificates. Through those certificates are assured of a minimum disbursement under the terms of the contract with the United States Steel Corporation, an unusually active iron output would call for increased royalties in fact with the corresponding royalties to the certificate holder.

The stability manifested by prices encourages operations by people in different stocks which have been left dormant. The awakening of these into active trading has no other cause than their claim to readjustment with the general advanced level of the market.

There were striking recoveries to-day in a number of stocks which were depressed by plans for reorganization. For instance, Chicago Great Western sold to-day at 51-2, after having sold last week as low as 1-2, when the holders of the stock were afraid that the provisions for the reorganization would wipe out the common stock. The establishment in the outside market of nominal quotations for the common and preferred when issued was the apparent cause of the rise. The advance lost most of a three-point advance later.

Movements were similar but narrower in Western Maryland, Wheeling and Lake Erie and Chicago Terminal Transfer. The Gould stock rose sharply on renewed reports of the maturing of that group. Denver and Rio Grande was helped specifically by the news that a block of its bonds had been placed with a group of German investors and that the full operation of the Western Pacific line was imminent. This evidence of the attractiveness of an American bond issue for foreign investors is regarded as having an important bearing on the prospects for a large new issue soon to be offered.

The crop news was reassuring and the call loan market remained unaffected by the hardening of the money market and the gradual depletion of bank reserves now commenced. The transfer of gold through the Subtreasury to San Francisco for export to Japan opens up a new force in this depletion. Figures for the first half of the last week led figures as a rule, lower than last night, although there were recoveries of the lowest. Bonds were firm; total sales, par value, $5,808,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
